

which inhibits cellular uptake. Just real Super Nutrients to feed and deeply nourish the skin. Because our 100% natural skin cream is preserved by extraordinary plant mineral extracts -- literally 100% of Premier DNA Repair Cream is Super Food for the skin.

Super Nutrient Formula. Now, let's take a look at the state-of-the-art ingredients in our super skin care formula:

1. Italian Hyaluronic Acid (HA)

You've probably been hearing a lot in the news lately how this latest, hottest nutraceutical skin agent – hyaluronic acid (HA). But beware of your source – much HA is an inferior byproduct of chicken necks – not our elegant, probiotic-derived, Italian hyaluronic acid.

HA provides important support to collagen and helps inhibit skin drying and wrinkling. HA is famous for improving the skin's hydration in large part due to its ability to hold water equal to ten thousand times its own mass. This is also why HA can help promote scarless healing when needed. Retaining adequate skin moisture is one of the secrets in promoting the most rejuvenated, moist complexion appearance. In addition, the very short chain length HA, as we use in Premier DNA Repair Cream, can even attract dangerous migrating carcinogenic cells and render them harmless.

2. Nanized Green Tea

"Nano" means very, very small. To "nanize" our premium grade green tea extract, we feed it to our proprietary 12-strain, beneficial probiotic bacteria, our micro-factories of little super workers who work tirelessly to liberate the super phytonutrients of green tea, such as the polyphenols, to make them exquisitely bioavailable - hundreds of times more than normal.

These nanized super nutrients are then able to penetrate much deeper into the skin's layers and connective tissue, promoting and nourishing the skin so it is more supple, elastic and moist. The green tea's nanized polyphenols can also deliver spectacular, anti-infective support and protection of the skin. They also block accumulation of harmful compounds called Advanced Glycation End Products (AGEs) in the skin as well as for the whole body, thus greatly decreasing the risk of age-related skin concerns.

3. Nanized Propolis

Propolis is a natural resin from bee hives and is loaded with immune-boosting phytonutrients. It has been renowned throughout the ages as one of the most powerful remedies for the skin. Propolis contains over 500 different powerful bioflavonoids including apigenin, luteolin and kaempferol which promote a broad-spectrum, immune-boosting effect for the skin, helping to protect HA. We have "nanized" our pesticide-free, European propolis using our exclusive process for superior skin absorption and support.

4. Nanized DHLA

We are quite proud of our next ingredient, nanized DHLA, a stabilized form of DHLA (dihydrolipoic acid), which has been created and stabilized for the first time in history by Dr. Bob Marshall, using special probiotic bacteria. DHLA has the proven capacity to quench every known free radical that can occur in living tissue – this means unparalleled protection against free radicals for the skin.

DHLA can also help restore youthful function to cells than have experienced age-related decline by dramatically increasing ATP, the body's high-energy cellular fuel.

5. Carnosine

Carnosine is a "new guy on the block" in skin-enhancing nutrients. Carnosine is a dipeptide found abundantly in the body in nerve, muscle cells and in the body's proteins, including skin. Carnosine helps extend the life of the cell's building block components such as DNA, lipids and proteins in the skin.

Protecting the Skin's Proteins. Your skin is continually exposed to the elements – sunlight, wind, dry climate, etc. – which can stress your skin's proteins. Carnosine protects the skin's proteins from cross-linking, especially collagen. Because carnosine is able to inhibit damaged proteins from disrupting healthy ones, it can actually help prevent the accumulation of damaged proteins, especially in the skin.

Rejuvenating Damaged Cells. Carnosine can also help rejuvenate damaged cells and even increase their life span. It is able to do so by protecting DNA chromosomes from damage and protecting the cell from lipid peroxidation, thus functioning as a powerful antioxidant capable of quenching the notorious hydroxyl free radical. In fact, carnosine can afford protection at sites in tissue where no other antioxidant or other substance may be able to reach.

Due to stress, poor nutrition, the use of toxic skin care products and many other factors, skin cells can age much faster than normal when the skin's proteins are damaged through a process called glycation – almost like a gluing together of the cells – resulting in the loss of elasticity, collagen damage, wrinkles and the dreaded sagging of skin – making you look aged and exhausted.

Carnosine can prevent glycation and even to prevent early cell death (cellular senescence). Carnosine is clearly a skin protection Super Star, unmatched by any other ingredient.

6. Colostrum

Colostrum is one of nature's premier Super Foods for every cell in the body. It helps impart dramatic skin healing properties due to its naturally occurring immune-boosting factors, including immunoglobulins and lactoferrin, which help directly nourish and feed the skin. Colostrum is one of the most powerful, broad-based DNA repair agents ever discovered.

7. Tocotrienol Complex

We have included the tocotrienol complex with its entire family of alpha, beta, gamma and delta tocotrienols, which together represent a powerful class of antioxidants and natural skin oils. In a recent study, tocotrienols were found to preferentially bio-accumulate in the outermost, 5-micron surface of the skin, thus providing superior skin protection against free radicals, sun damage and chemical toxins.

Tocotrienols also deliver superior moisture-holding properties for the skin with an increased ability of the skin to concentrate beneficial solar radiation frequencies which are necessary to create high cellular resonance – the ultimate secret of youthful skin and great health.

8. Genuine Vitamin E Complex

Are you as shocked as we were to learn that most of the vitamin E found in skin creams is synthetic? That's right – artificially made vitamin E. For the most elegant skin health, we have included the real vitamin E complex – a complete family of alpha, beta, gamma and delta tocopherols from natural sources (no synthetics). This expensive ingredient helps create a superior, natural lipid balance of the skin to provide your skin superior cellular protection from the damaging effects of lipid peroxidation.

9. Lavender Oil

For its refreshing fragrance and immune-boosting phytonutrients, we have included 100% genuine, exquisite quality, real French lavender essential oil in our premier skin formula. No synthetic fragrance boosters or any other toxic compounds.

Ideal Cellular Resonance for Beautiful Skin

Restoring and maintaining the ideal cellular resonance for the best health of the skin requires that every ingredient be truly synergistic so that together, they are able to elegantly orchestrate the most rapid recovery and the easiest maintenance of ideal skin health. Premier DNA Repair Cream delivers a delightful compendium of the perfect synergists, cofactors and transporters essential for the most rapid restoration and protection of the skin's ideal cellular resonance.
